

Early Victorian sterling silver lidded saucepan. london 1839 by A B Savory & Sons.

£3,000

Joseph (II) And Albert Savory

REF: 8090

Description

Early Victorian sterling silver lidded saucepan

Maker: Joseph (II) and Albert Savory trading as A B Savory & Sons (mark entered January 1835).

London 1839

Crest and Arms: PORTER impaling RUSSELL for Henry Porter (1791-1858) of Winslade House, Clyst St Mary, Devon and Demerara, Guyana and his wife, Rose Aylmer Russell.

Silver was often used for cooking utensils in 18th and 19th century kitchens due to the hygienic properties of this metal. To-day, antique silver saucepans are used for serving vegetables and sauces in the diningroom by some aristocratic and other families. This may be whimsical but has the advantage of keeping the contents hot.

Size:- 11 inches long overall x 6.8 inches high with lid x 5.5 inches diameter

Weight:- 19.00 Troy Ounces (590.90 grams)